

Mrs. Frederick C. Nano, wife of the Charge d'Affaires of the Rumanian Legation at Washington, who recently arrived with her husband from London. She is hostess of the legation in the absence of Princess Bibesco.

Harris & Ewing.

Above — The American section of the great Pantheon de la Guerre, the tremendous war canvas done by 150 French artists, in which the foremost war figures of all nations are included. The huge painting, covering 20,000 square feet, will be exhibited in America. Wide World.

Faces that passed in review before Trotzky at his review of the Soviet Army at Moscow. International.

Gen. James A. Ryan, U. S. A., retired, presenting the American Legion's gold embossed scroll to President Obregon of Mexico in recognition of the Mexican Government's sending a State band to the national convention of the legion. Wide World.

A photograph which shows the liner Majestic against the background of lower New York. A striking comparison which illustrates the size of the world's largest ship.

Secretary of the Navy Denby boarding the steamship Henderson with Capt. Arthur McArthur, the ship's commander. The Secretary is sailing for Japan. Pacific and Atlantic.

(C) Major Hamilton Maxwell from aeromarine flying boat.

The Vassar College Mandolin Club—1922. The members are, back row, left to right: The Misses K. Kernan, J. George, D. Scoville, A. Horney and E. Jenks. Center row, left to right: The Misses D. McGrath, S. Smith, D. I. Neff (leader), J. Andrews and D. Dresser. Front row, left to right: The Misses E. Coggeshall, K. Jackson, R. Ridgway, R. Maybrunn and K. Carpenter.

An informal photograph of Mrs. Leslie Craigie, wife of the Secretary of the British Embassy, at the Fete Champetre for the benefit of Neighborhood House, Washington, D. C. The patrons were Lady Geddes and other ladies of the British Embassy. Wide World.

Foreign representatives who participated in the dedication ceremonies at the home of the National Woman's Party in Washington. Left to right: Mme. Harriet Gotting of Czechoslovakia, Miss Susie Chow of China, Mme. Josephine Klima of Prague, Slovakia; Miss Ballivian of Bolivia and Miss Vina Stepanek of Czechoslovakia. Harris & Ewing.